Your Fire and Rescue Department "At Your Service"

The Fairfax County Fire and Rescue Department trains firefighters to provide a full complement of fire suppression, technical rescue, swift water rescue, hazardous materials, and emergency medical services, including basic and advanced life support and emergency medical transportation—it is a career and volunteer all-hazards department. Since its humble beginning in July 1949, the Fairfax County Fire and Rescue Department has evolved from ten skilled "drivers" to a complex agency responsible for meeting the emergency needs of over one million residents.

Today, nearly 1,400 uniformed men and women operate from 37 fire and rescue stations strategically positioned throughout Fairfax County. Additionally, about 170 full-time civilians provide key support functions from headquarters and other locations.

The Fairfax County Fire and Rescue Department operates on three separate 24-hour rotation shifts. Each shift is led by a Deputy Fire Chief. The county is separated geographically into seven battalions, each managed by a battalion management team of a Battalion Fire Chief and EMS Captain. Fire suppression personnel and paramedics work in tandem to ensure the highest level of safety and care possible for the residents of Fairfax County.

Firefighters battle a two-story house fire in the 9200 block of Forest Greens Drive, Lorton. An unattended candle on the front porch caused the fire.

Highlights

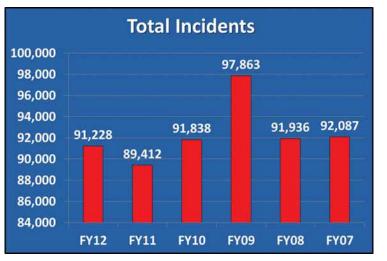

ZERO FIRE FATALITIES – No fire fatalities for calendar year 2011; a first in the department's 62-year history.

REPLACEMENT OF FIRE AND RESCUE STATION 29, TYSONS CORNER – The station rebuild was negotiated as part of a development proffer in redeveloping Tysons. No timetable for construction has been set.

FIRE AND RESCUE STATION 12, GREAT FALLS – The grand opening for the two-story, 18,700 square foot firehouse was held March 10, 2012, with the traditional "hose uncoupling." The station was designed to be environmentally friendly, and integrate into the rural setting of the Great Falls community.

Fire and Rescue Station 12 Grand Opening was March 10, 2011.
